Classical studies is an interdisciplinary field focused on the study of ancient Greece and Rome, as well as the influences on them from the neighboring cultures of Egypt and the Near East. Echoes of Greece and Rome saturate our culture, from the shapes of our traditional buildings to the political institutions we embrace, from the mythological stories that reappear in our literature and art to the intellectual disciplines that form the liberal arts. The Classical Studies Program seeks to provide students the opportunity to gain intellectual grounding in a minor program that explores our debts to the ancient Greeks and Romans.

In addition to their historical significance, Greek and Roman works of art, literature, and philosophy have substantial continuing value, and the Classical Studies Program exposes students to many of the great works of these cultures. Serious engagement with these works can be forever enriching.

The Minor Program

The minor is inherently interdisciplinary. The courses required for the minor include two classical studies courses and an appropriate balance of disciplinary perspective within the minor and courses in a minimum of three of the traditional academic disciplines, including Greek or Latin language through 201. A student may choose specific courses of interest within Greco-Roman studies, but the minor grows from the foundation course CLAS 200 Introduction to Classical Studies and culminates in CLAS 450 Topics in Classical Studies. For Latin and Greek course listings, see Foreign Languages and Literatures. (http://docs.lclark.edu/undergraduate/foreignlanglit/)
