

THEATRE

Chair: Štěpán Šimek

Administrative Coordinator: Joyce Beeny

The Department of Theatre offers study in dramatic literature, theatre history, acting, directing, playwriting, design, technical theatre, and dance. Theatre students are required to participate broadly in the curriculum. The department maintains an active production program, which includes Main Stage productions (one each semester), one-act festivals in the Black Box theatre, late-night theatre, and dance performances. Theatre study at Lewis & Clark encourages excellence in all aspects of performance and production—both onstage and behind the scenes—combined with an understanding of the aesthetic, social, philosophical, and historical underpinnings of our collaborative art form. The department's goal is to educate artist-scholars who are well-rounded, well-trained, and intellectually informed. We see theatre and dance as integral parts of the liberal arts; our curriculum is designed to prepare broadly educated individuals for leadership roles in the arts and in society at large.

Our production program offers opportunities for student directors, designers, choreographers, dramaturgs, and playwrights, as well as student actors. The fall one-act festival, for example, normally consists of plays written, directed, acted, and designed by students. Opportunities for playwriting and choreography are available through formal classes, independent study, and the production program. Student dramaturgs assist with Main Stage productions. Main Stage theatre and dance performances are directed by faculty members and visiting artists. The Lewis & Clark theatre department production program is dedicated to nurturing a dynamic and diverse artistic and scholarly community. Our productions include new works as well as contemporary, modern, premodern, and classical plays. The department honors the diversity of our community, and students can fully participate in our productions regardless of ethnicity, race, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation, nationality, socioeconomic status, or disability. The department seeks to represent a diversity of voices on our stages to practice open, nontraditional casting, and to respect, particularly with regard to new and contemporary plays, the playwright's vision.

Students also have the opportunity to participate in the regional Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival (KCACTF). This festival showcases qualifying work in playwriting, directing, acting, devising, design, technical theatre, and scholarship.

Semester-long off-campus programs emphasizing theatre, art, and music are held in New York and in London. The New York program includes internships at institutions such as the Atlantic Theater Company (<http://atlantictheater.org>), Second Stage Theatre (<http://2st.com>), and Shen Wei Dance Arts (<http://shenweidancearts.org>).

Lewis & Clark students are encouraged to take advantage of the many opportunities to see professional theatre and dance in Portland. Internships with Portland theatres such as Portland Center Stage, Hand2Mouth Theatre, Third Rail Repertory, CoHo Productions, PETE (Portland Experimental Theatre Ensemble), and others are available.

Dance students will develop technical skills in conjunction with the study of aesthetics, history, and criticism. There is an annual student-choreographed dance performance. In addition, they will have the opportunity to participate in the annual Northwest regional American College Dance Festival (<http://acdfa.org>) during spring semester. Student choreography can be presented for adjudication at the festival, which offers classes, workshops, and performances over four days.

Students majoring in theatre or minoring in theatre or dance must fulfill Lewis & Clark's creative arts requirement outside the department—in art, creative writing, or music—and are strongly urged to pursue further studies in other areas of the arts.

Facilities

The theatre building at Lewis & Clark is one of the finest teaching facilities for theatre in the Pacific Northwest. It is an integrated facility designed to support a process-oriented program. The building contains the 225-seat Main Stage and a studio theatre (Black Box) with flexible seating arrangements for up to 125. It also houses complete production facilities, including a scenery shop, design studio, costume-construction room, dressing rooms, rehearsal areas, and the Green Room student lounge.

The Major Program

Students interested in a theatre major are encouraged to participate in theatre department courses or activities in their first year and to consult with a member of the theatre faculty. Students should declare the theatre major by the end of the sophomore year.

The theatre department offers a balanced major that gives students flexibility in determining an area of emphasis. All theatre majors are required to take courses in dramatic literature and theatre history, theatre theory, performance, design, and dance or movement. Students majoring in theatre must choose a concentration in dramatic literature/theatre history, performance, or design/technical theatre.

Senior majors complete a thesis project that is the culmination of their studies in theatre. This project may be based in performance, production, or research.

Major Requirements: Concentration in Literature/Theatre History

- Four semester credits chosen from the following:

TH 209	Social Dance Forms: History, Practice, and Social Significance
TH 214	Dance in Context: History and Criticism
- Eight semester credits in dance technique, chosen from the following:

TH 107	Ballet I
TH 108	Contemporary Dance Forms I
TH 201	Contact Improvisation
TH 208	Contemporary Dance Forms II
- TH 110A Theatre Laboratory
- Four semester credits chosen from the following:

TH 113	Acting I: Fundamentals
TH 234	Stage Lighting
TH 356	Devised Performance

Honors

To qualify for departmental honors, students must demonstrate, in their first three years, outstanding achievement in one or more of the major's three concentrations: dramatic literature and theatre history, performance, or design and technical theatre. The required GPA is 3.500 overall and in the major. Theatre Department faculty will invite qualified students to apply for departmental honors in the beginning of the spring semester of their senior year. They must then demonstrate excellence in the capstone work of the Senior Seminar, achieving a B+ or above in both the creative project (if applicable) and written thesis. Theatre Department faculty will monitor an applicant's progress toward honors.

Courses

TH 104 Stage Makeup

Faculty: Edmonds

Content: Principles and techniques of stage makeup, based on play and character analysis. Exercises to develop and refine the skill for actor, director, or makeup designer. Daily assignments, short paper critiquing the makeup skill of an off-campus production.

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, spring semester.

Semester credits: 2.

TH 106 Fundamentals of Movement

Faculty: Davis

Content: Use of guided movement explorations, partner work, readings, and discussion to explore structural and functional aspects of the body and anatomy with the goal of increasing efficiency of movement and physical coordination. Use of imagery supports dynamic alignment, breath, mobility/stability, relaxation, and partner work including massage, with a main focus on the skeletal system and elements of muscle and organ systems, as well as the relationship between the body and psychological/emotional patterns. Extensive journal writing.

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Annually, fall and spring semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 107 Ballet I

Faculty: Hansen

Content: Introduction to basic ballet principles, steps, and vocabulary. Correct alignment, placement, mobility; increasing flexibility, balance, strength, coordination, control. Barre warm-up, center floor and traveling combinations, general introduction to ballet history and aesthetics. Readings in related historical material; written critique of live performance. Live music accompaniment.

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, fall semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 108 Contemporary Dance Forms I

Faculty: Davis

Content: Introduction to modern and postmodern dance forms, physical techniques, and principles. Emphasis on the conceptual nature of contemporary dance since the 1960s. Movement skills and perspectives in relation to historic and aesthetic ideas that fostered them. Development of sound body mechanics, strength, flexibility, control, momentum, movement quality, musicality, personal movement resources. Viewing live and videotaped performances. Short readings on dance history and theory. Live music accompaniment.

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, spring semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 110A Theatre Laboratory

Faculty: Robins

Content: Introduction to behind-the-scenes work in the theatre.

Participation on production crews for all departmental productions in a given semester. Experiential learning in the scene and costume shops, on lighting and front-of-house crews. Introduction to the processes that transform the visions of directors and designers into realities on stage. Weekly organizational and instructional meetings, arranged work schedule, required safety orientations. May be repeated (as TH 110B) for up to two additional 1-credit semesters with lab-only requirements, not to exceed 4 total course credits per student.

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Annually, fall and spring semester.

Semester credits: 2.

TH 110B Theatre Laboratory

Faculty: Robins

Content: More behind-the-scenes work in the theatre. Participation on production crews for all departmental productions in a given semester. Experiential learning in the scene and costume shops, on lighting and front-of-house crews. Introduction to the processes that transform the visions of directors and designers into realities on stage. Weekly organizational and instructional meetings, arranged work schedule, required safety orientations. Taught each semester. 1 semester credit with lab only requirement. May be repeated once for credit.

Prerequisites: TH-110A.

Usually offered: Annually, fall and spring semester.

Semester credits: 1.

TH 113 Acting I: Fundamentals

Faculty: Lingafelter, Šimek, Weeks

Content: The fundamentals of acting, including physicalization, text analysis, objectives and actions, rehearsal techniques. Development of skills through class exercises and the rehearsal and performance of short projects and two-character scenes. Writing assignments including script analyses, character biographies, peer reviews, performance reviews, observation exercises, journals.

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Annually, fall and spring semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 201 Contact Improvisation

Faculty: Nordstrom

Content: Physical investigation into gravity, momentum, and weight sharing between two or more bodies. Specific skills such as falling, perching, and rolling point of contact; readings and video assignments help to place CI in a historical, social, and artistic context.

Prerequisites: TH 106.

Usually offered: Annually, fall semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 208 Contemporary Dance Forms II

Faculty: Davis

Content: Deepening exploration of physical techniques, historic events, and aesthetic concerns that shape contemporary dance today. Kinesthetic awareness, momentum, phrasing, weight sharing, authentic gesture, basic performance skills. Exploring basic improvisation and composition skills to give form to spontaneous and intuitive movement impulses. Reading, writing, viewing live performance. Live music accompaniment. May be taken twice for credit.

Prerequisites: TH 108.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, spring semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 209 Social Dance Forms: History, Practice, and Social Significance

Faculty: Davis

Students will learn the basic techniques of leading and following, footwork, body placement, stylization, etiquette, and musicality. Reading, lectures, and film will provide historical and social context for each dance.

Prerequisites: None. TH 106 recommended.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, fall semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 212 Stagecraft

Faculty: Robins

Content: Advanced techniques and concepts in stagecraft. Explores the second-phase design process by which a set designer's visual representations are transformed first into working drawings and construction problems, and then into material, three-dimensional forms. Classroom instruction and experiential learning in the scene shop. Emphasis on problem-solving, collaborative interpretation of design ideas, creative implementation. Fee.

Prerequisites: TH 110.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, spring semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 213 Acting II, Realism

Faculty: Lingafelter, Šimek

Content: Rehearsal with more complex texts of realism from such playwrights as Ibsen, Chekhov, Churchill, Stoppard. Integration of voice and body work, deepening a sense of truth in emotional and intellectual expression. Actors work with instructor on individual acting problems, share research in texts and historical periods, learn how to help each other take acting explorations further. Writing: script analysis, historical research, bibliography, observations. Additional projects in movement and voice.

Prerequisites: TH 113.

Usually offered: Annually, spring semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 214 Dance in Context: History and Criticism

Faculty: Davis

Content: Viewing of selected live dance performances in the Portland area. An exploration of the intellectual, historical, and social contexts of these performances. Development of a vocabulary for dance criticism and an understanding of the essential elements of dance choreography and performance. Readings; analysis of videotaped, filmed, and live dance performances; seminar discussion. Fee (performance tickets).

Prerequisites: None.

Usually offered: Alternate Years, fall semester.

Semester credits: 4.

TH 217 Voice and Movement

Faculty: Lingafelter

Content: This class will introduce students to a range of vocal and physical techniques for creative expression in performance. Through a series of exercises, trainings, and performances, students will have the opportunity to reduce habitual tensions, connect their movement and voice to imagery and text, and increase the strength, flexibility, and dynamic of their voices and bodies in performance. The class will cover techniques drawn from a wide variety of voice and movement philosophies including Linklater, Suzuki, Grotowski, Alexander, yoga, and others.
